ſters: and deſigning his diſcourſe onely as an Inaugural Oration to his Anatomical lectures, chooſes rather to promiſe a Juſt tract of the Subject ſome other time, than now to pretend to any accuracy; which the decent brevity of a Speech made both improper and unſeaſible.

Advertiſement.

THe Reader is deſired to take notice that whereas in this Tranſaction the matter falls out ſhort ſomething of five Sheets, ſo there was in the laſt alſo more by half a Sheet: which happens by reaſon of the difficulty of adjuſting matter before hand. However the Buyer may be aſſured that whenever it thus falls out that He has at any time leſs than uſual in any Tranſaction, he ſhall be repaired again in ſome other following, if not in the preceding one, as in the preſent caſe.

ERRATA.

Pag. 216. l. 11. the other. P. 220. l. 12. magnetical.

OXFORD,

Printed by LEONARD LICHFIELD, Printer to the Univerſity, and are to be ſold by Hen. Rogers at the Sign of the Bible in Weſtminſter Hall, and Sam. Smith at the Princes Arms in St. Pauls Church-yard.

1683.